

ROOSEVELT MAKES EARNEST APPEAL

Distinguished Ex-President Strongly Endorses Senator Beveridge On Indiana Tour.

COMMENDS THE STATE TICKET

Speaks to Thousands of People at Veedersburg, Lafayette, Crawfordsville and Indianapolis.

(Special to the Republican)

Veedersburg, Ind., Oct. 13—Ex-president Theodore Roosevelt, America's most popular citizen, started his Indiana tour from this city this morning, under conditions which were regarded as Roosevelt luck. The weather was ideal for outdoor meetings, and the crowd which heard the address of Col. Roosevelt was one of the largest ever assembled in this part of the state.

As his time was limited, Col. Roosevelt, from the very start made a strong and convincing appeal for the reelection of Senator Beveridge. He has always been in sympathy with Senator Beveridge and it was largely by his request that he came to Indiana at this time.

Col. Roosevelt in the course of his address said:

"I like a game fighter for the right and that is why I am here to speak for Albert J. Beveridge and if you really believe that a public man ought to fight for the public good, then you send Albert Beveridge back to the senate, and I want you to back up your work in favor of honest aggressive honesty by your votes.

Friends make no mistake. If Indiana votes against Beveridge it will be understood and can only be understood as punishing the man who strove to bring his party abreast the times of the people of this state, the United States; as punishing the man who stood fearlessly for the right when it needed nerve to stand for the right.

I have followed Senator Beveridge's course in this state; I have read his speeches; he has spoke straight to the line and there is not one thing he has said on the stump that is not backed up by his actions at Washington."

FIFTEEN THOUSAND

People Hear Col. Roosevelt's Address At Crawfordsville.

(Special to the Republican)

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 13—Col. Roosevelt addressed over fifteen thousand people in the college campus this morning. His appearance with Senator Beveridge brought forth cheer after cheer. He spoke in favor of the tariff commission as advocated in the Republican state platform, and strongly commended Beveridge. The train was delayed forty minutes while hundreds of citizens shook hands with the distinguished ex-president.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Shown by Lafayette People at Big Roosevelt Meeting.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 13—The Roosevelt meeting was held in the Lincoln Club at this city, and thousands heard the address given by Col. Roosevelt. The ex-president made a strong endorsement of Beveridge and the entire Republican state ticket. He spoke with great earnestness and the attention of the audience was intense throughout the address.

FOR BEVERIDGE

Roosevelt Makes Earnest Appeal at Indianapolis.

(Special to the Republican)

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—When Colonel Roosevelt arrived at Indianapolis shortly after two this afternoon, he was greeted by one of the largest crowd that ever heard a public speaker in Indiana. In fact, the number compared very favorably with the enormous audience that was present nearly three years ago when Colonel Roosevelt unveiled the General Lawton monument. At the latter meeting Colonel Roosevelt was greeted by the largest audience that ever assembled in Indiana. He was met at the union station here this afternoon by former Vice-President, Charles W. Fairbanks and other noted Indianians who took a prominent part in the meeting, which was held in the monument place.

Several thousand people were at the union station and a large number formed in line behind the regularly appointed escort and the clubs that were there to greet the Colonel and to accompany him to the place of the meeting. One of the significant features of the meeting was that there were hundreds of old soldiers who took off their hats and cheered vigorously when Colonel Roosevelt appeared among them. Under the leadership of General Richardson and Colonel Orin Perry they formed in line behind Colonel Roosevelt and marched there to the monument, where they had places of honor during the meeting.

Colonel Roosevelt spoke from the balcony on the Hotel English. The space in front of him and between the hotel and the monument was packed with people and it was estimated that over twenty-five thousand tried to hear him. When he was presented by former Vice-President, Fairbanks, a multitude gave him an ovation that lasted several minutes.

Two Social Affairs.

Mrs. L. A. Ebner gave two very pleasant social affairs Wednesday afternoon and evening in honor of her guests, Mrs. Sophia Ferdinand and Mrs. David Miller of Vincennes. In the afternoon she entertained sixteen ladies at euchre. Refreshments were served. In the evening she gave a bridge party for twelve. A three course luncheon was served. Mrs. Ferdinand returned home today but Mrs. Miller will remain for several days.

A Rush of Orders.

The Carter Glove and Mitten factory is still rushed to fill orders and more girls are wanted to run the machines. There are twenty of the latter in the factory and twelve are now being operated. The women and girls who are employed, make from 75 cents to $1.50 a day, their wages depending upon their rapidity.

Christmas will soon be in speaking distance. Order your photographs now. It will give us time to do our best work on them. A dozen pictures means a dozen acceptable gifts. Not open on Sunday.

STATE COMPLETES EVIDENCE IN CASE

All Witnesses In Bohall Murder Case Will Probably Be Examined By Friday Morning.

THE TESTIMONY BY DEFENSE

Attorneys For The Defendant Will Endeavor to Show That Shooting Was Accidental.

In less than a day after the jury was empaneled, the state rested in the Bohall murder case, having examined several witnesses to show that the shooting was done with a premeditated motive. The defendant, Garfield Bohall shot and killed his brother, Thornton, last November, and is on the second trial, the jury having failed to agree when the case was tried last term of court.

The attorneys for the defendant began calling witnesses this morning, and will try and show the jury that the shooting was entirely accidental. The defendant, by testimony, will endeavor to show that he was cleaning his revolver and when he was called by his mother to separate his brothers, Joseph and Thornton, who were engaged in a quarrel, he carried the pistol with him, and while he was attempting to settle the difficult the revolver was accidentally discharged. The bullet struck his brother just above the left eye and he died a short time after he was shot.

It is thought that all the testimony for the defense will be completed by some time Saturday morning. As soon as the evidence is completed the attorneys will begin their arguments which will probably be continued throughout the day. The jury will get the case some time Saturday, if there are no delays.

There have been many witnesses in Brownstown this week on account of this case, as both the state and the defense called persons to testify. A special venire was called several days before the trial.

Shaking Hands.

John H. Kamman, Seymour attorney, and 'Republican candidate for congress in this district, was here today shaking hands and meeting people. Both the republican and democratic candidates for congress were here today, as Congressman Lincoln Dixon, the democratic nominee, came up from North Vernon this morning to speak at the camp fire in the city hall tonight.—Columbus Republican.

Asks Divorce.

Mrs. Mary Trowbridge went to Brownstown this morning to prosecute her suit for divorce from Emmet Trowbridge from whom she has been separated three years. She asks for the restoration of her former name, Mrs. Mary Nowling. If the divorce is granted her pension of $12 a month as the widow of a soldier will be restored.

Mrs. Margarite Bruenger who has been very sick at her home on East street, is some better today.

BLACKBERRIES ADDED TO THE SECOND CROP LIST

Vines Owned by John Q. Foster Producing Ripe Berries of Good Quality.

Numerous reports have been made this summer and fall that plants and vines of various varieties have produced second crops and performed other strange stunts, and now the blackberries not wishing to be outdone come to the front with a second crop of large, luscious berries. The vines which have placed the blackberries in the second crop list are owned by John Q. Foster who lives east of the city. The berries are well formed and are of excellent quality, being somewhat larger than those of the first crop. On the same stem with the ripe berries are a number of others which will mature in a short time if the weather is favorable. Mr. Foster has quite a number of the vines producing a second crop.

During the summer a number of reports were made of the second crop of strawberries in which the berries were as perfect as those which ripened earlier in the season. Potatoes vines were exhibited upon which potatoes were grown above the ground as well as beneath the soil, and many freak tomato plants were also seen. Many other plants and vines were shown which were somewhat of a curiosity, and which establishes a new record for freak plants and oddities.

DISTRICT MEETING MAY BE HELD HERE

Grand Army of The Republic of Fourth District May Meet In Seymour in 1911.

GREAT TIME AT COLUMBUS

Various Regiments Hold Reunions, and Elect Officers for Ensuing Year.

According to the present plans the next annual meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic of the Fourth district will be held in Seymour. The invitation to hold the 1911 meeting in this city was given at Columbus Wednesday and the suggestion met with general approval. The matter was not definitely decided, however, but was left to the executive committee, which is composed of one member from each county. Rev. Lewis King, of Bartholomew county, was made chairman of the committee, and D. B. Vance, of Brownstown, was appointed to represent Jackson county.

The members of Ellsworth Post are very anxious to have this city entertain the veterans of the district, and will assist in every way possible in getting the meeting here. The various regimental reunions have been held in Seymour, but the district meeting has never been held here. There are about eight hundred members in the Fourth district and in order to get the meeting here, arrangements must be made to secure a hall large enough to accommodate the visitors. In order to do this, financial assistance must be given by the citizens, but no difficulty will be experienced along this line, as many of the business men have offered substantial sums to help in defraying the expenses.

The executive committee will meet in a short time and the matter will be taken up and given their early attention. As there is much work to be done in advance of the meeting, the members of Ellsworth Post must know in sufficient time so that none of the arrangements would be overlooked.

The meeting at Columbus was one of the most successful ever held in this district, and the veterans from this city who attended are praising the city and the citizens for the kind treatment which was accorded them during their visit.

The reunions of the various regiments were held at the meeting in Columbus and the veterans had a great time in talking over old times. The One Hundred and Forty-fifth Regiment held its reunion, with Col. Williams presiding. The president, A. C. Flannigan, was ill and was unable to be present. John A. Goodale, of this city, was elected secretary. The regiment decided to hold its next meeting in Seymour and elected the following officers:

W. J. Houchen, Seymour, President. Daniel Wilson, Seymour, Vice-President.

Rev. Lewis King, Columbus, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Sixty-seventh Regiment will also meet in this city in 1911. There were nearly forty members of the Regiment present. The officers elected were:

M. V. Jewitt, Columbus, President. J. B. Malott, Bedford, Secretary and Treasurer.

There were only two members of the Twenty-fifth at the meeting and both of these were from Jackson county. They were D. W. Sage, of Crothersville and S. H. Wright, of Vallonia.

Dr. Knapp, of Vincennes, will make his regular visit to Brownstown, Friday, Oct. 14. o13&wkly

WOMAN LEADS "WETS"
IN WEST VIRGINIA FIGHT.

Heads Charge In State Wide Attack
With Own Newspaper.

The greatest political battle for control of the county machinery of the Republican party in West Virginia is being waged in Mason county, and marshaling the "wet" wing of the party against the "drys" is Mrs. Livia Simpson Poffenbarger, the wife of Judge George Poffenbarger of the supreme court of West Virginia.

It is an internecine battle, and Mrs. Poffenbarger, through the State Gazette, of which she is editor and general manager, is fighting the fight that gives no quarter. The State Gazette is a weekly, but during the present fight for the control of the county extra editions are run off with the frequency of metropolitan afternoon journals, and the "Ninnyhammers," which is the reproachful term Mrs. Poffenbarger applies to the opposition, who have been in control of the county, are being given a life and death battle for the saving of their political scalps.

It is the first time in the history of West Virginia that the forces of either political party have been led by a woman.

The liquor question is the paramount issue, and the senatorial question is a close second, with two committees clamoring for recognition and two sets of candidates in the field. The faction of which Mrs. Poffenbarger is the head opposes the abolition of the saloon and favors the candidacy of Senator N. B. Scott against Representative William P. Hubbard.

PLANTS DIE OF FEVERS.

Carbonic Acid Gas the Cause, as With Humans.

Not only animals, but plants, may suffer and die of fevers, says M. Leclerc du Sablon. When a human being has a fever he loses flesh on account of the increased combustion, the quantity of carbonic acid expired from the lungs being augmented from 70 to 100 per cent.

A plant attacked by a fever, which may be caused by a wound, rapidly consumes its reserves of organic matter and becomes enfeebled, sometimes sufficiently to cause its death.

M. Leclerc du Sablon has experimented with potatoes rendered feverish by cutting them. The temperature soon rises about 1 degree, and the quantity of carbonic acid given off increases several hundred per cent. If the potato survives its "respiration" after a few days becomes normal, but it falls into an enfeebled state, resembling that of a person convalescent from a long fever.

LILLIPUTIAN DYNAMO BUILT.

Weights Quarter Ounce and Power is Unknown.

A Lilliputian electric dynamo, perfect in every detail, but weighing only a quarter of an ounce, was shown at work at the Paris Academy of Science. Its constructor is a French mechanician named Trevet.

This dynamo is three-fifths of an inch long, one-half inch wide and three-fifths of an inch high. The coil is one-quarter of an inch in diameter and is wired with five and a half feet of silk insulated copper wire one-fifth hundredth of an inch in thickness. A tension is indicated of 3.5 volts by a current of 0.2 ampere, but as to its power there is no instrument sensitive enough to record it.

While at work the toy machine made a sound like the humming of a bee.

ANKLET WATCH APPEARS.

Londoners Deride New Fashionable Masculine Hobby.

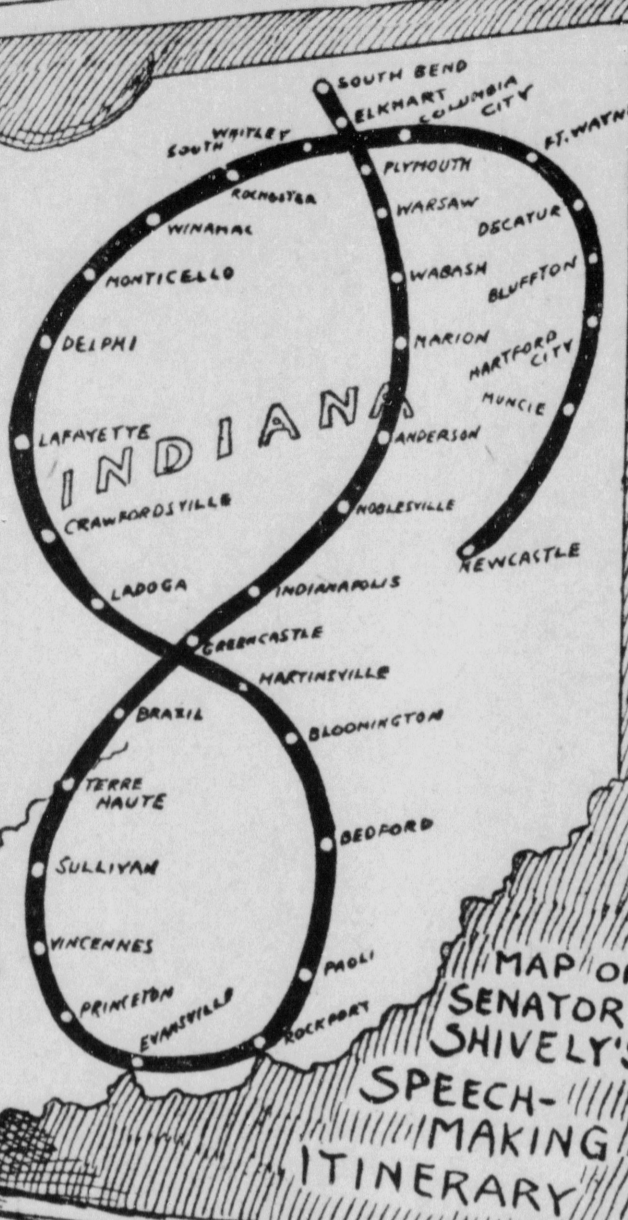

Even London has been stirred by a young man who appeared at Folkestone, to the huge delight of the well dressed crowd, wearing around his ankle a gold bracelet to which a watch was attached.

Englishmen will stand for the "wrist watch," and they insist it is good form to carry your handkerchief in your cuffs, but they have taken a decided stand against the "anklet watch" and are watching to see whether Atlantic City can produce anything to beat it.

WORLD IS GOING MAD,
SAYS "RIPPER" EXPERT.

Calculates Insane Will Soon Outnumber Sane Persons.

According to Dr. Forbes Winslow, who acquired international celebrity by his sedulous insistence on his theory that "Jack the Ripper" was a homicidal maniac, the world is going mad.

Dr. Winslow considers that the rate of progress to that consummation is shockingly rapid. In a book of reminiscences published recently this expert in criminal lunacy says:

"By a simple arithmetical calculation it can be shown the exact year when there will be more insane persons in the world than sane. We in England are gradually approaching, with the decadence of our youth, near proximity to a nation of madmen.

"By comparing the lunacy statistics of 1869 with those of 1900, four decades having intervened, my reflections are sad indeed. A terrible but real curse is in store, and an insane world looks certain to me in the not far distant future.

"In 1869 out of a population of 22,223,200 there were 53,177 registered lunatics in England and Wales, there being one lunatic in every 418 of total population, whereas in 1900 out of a population of 35,756,615 the number of registered lunatics was 128,787, making on an average one lunatic in every 278 of population, so that in forty years an enormous increase in lunacy is seen—surely a dreadful future for nations still unborn to have to cope with."

Dragging Movement of Revolving Globe Also Affects Wheels.

It is not generally known that railroad rails creep. They do, and on lines running north and south the western rail "creeps" faster than the eastern rail; that is, this strange movement of the rail toward the south is more marked in one rail than in the other on the same track. Furthermore, it has been noticed that on such a line the eastern rail wears out the faster.

Both of these points can be explained by the motion of the earth as it turns from the west toward the east. Everything that has free motion is dragged after the whirling globe. Every wind that blows and every tide that moves feels the influence, and a train going north or south is pulled over toward the east and naturally presses the eastern rail most heavily. The western rail, being relieved of its share of weight, "creeps" more freely and quickly.

It is also noticed that the wheels that run on the eastern rail wear out first, and one cannot but think that this earth motion is the true cause.

NEW LUMBER RECORD SOUGHT

Pacific Craft Expects to Carry 5,000,000 Foot Cargo.

Portland, Ore., is to have another opportunity to establish a new world's record for lumber cargo on a single vessel, for the British tramp Knight of the Garter, which attracted the attention of the entire shipping world by loading 4,920,000 feet for Tsingtau, has been rechartered by the same export lumber company.

At the time of the carrier's departure it was estimated that she could exceed the amount taken with material of a character that would have permitted better stowage, and until she was cleared it was believed she would load at least 5,000,000 feet. The vessel was reported on the other side in good season.

The export company has taken her for the round voyage, so she will carry iron ore from China to Irondale and then go to Portland for lumber. The company has dispatched this season a total of 50,000,000 feet of lumber, all of which has been forwarded to the China market.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

A Fashion Chat on Charming Lingerie.

Furnished by Pictorial Review

222 West 39th Street, New York City

There is such an honest satisfaction felt by women and girls when they know how to fashion their own dainty garments that the chances are they will always manage to find time to make some if not all of their under-wear. It is quite true that very pretty lingerie can be bought at quite reasonable prices at the big department stores but it is the alteration necessary very often that is objected to. Then again, the material may not be of the very best quality and there is a probability of its going to pieces in the wash.

In making undergarments a great deal of individuality can be used by introducing new ideas in sewing on the fine laces or perhaps embroidering some handsome flower design. Another reason why we delight in making instead of buying our under-wear is because of the perfect fit that is insured especially if a good pattern is used. Upon the fit of the undergarment depends the fit of the gown and that is an all important matter.

There is no single item of lingerie deserving of more particular attention than the petticoat, for, as was just mentioned, no matter how perfect one's dresses may be, if the petticoat which is worn beneath is ill-fitting, it will surely affect that which is worn over it.

It seems as if more petticoats are needed to-day for even a very modest wardrobe than ever before. There are the princess slips to begin with, of which several are usually necessary. From two to four white petticoats are needed, one black one and at least several of different colors. It is a comfortable feeling, if you can afford it, to own one satin or silk petticoat, but when you have to choose just one from among the many colors it resolves itself into somewhat of a problem.

The cross-barred muslins make wonderfully pretty skirt ruffles and need little decoration, the material in itself being so effective.

For dressing sacks, wrappers and nightgowns, cotton crepe is one of the most useful and popular materials. Some women use it for corset covers also, though others prefer nainsook and lawn that has to be ironed. The fact that crepe is so easily laundered and needs no ironing recommends it for travelers who have nightgowns and combination undergarments of it. Printed flowered or figured crepe is utilized for dressing sacks and wrappers. Habutia and China silk are popular and if warmth is desired, challis, wool batiste, viyella and cashmere are used.

Cotton crepe was used for the night-gown shown in PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 332, the surplice style yoke and the short dowing sleeves being of embroidered crepe. The pattern includes puff sleeves also. Cross-barred nainsook, lilly, and lawn are suitable materials. Pattern sizes are for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. For the medium size the corset-cover and petticoat require 3 yards of 36-inch material; for corset cover and drawers 3 1/2 yards; for either garment 5 1/2 yards of wide edging and 1 1/2 yards of insertion is required.

Combinations are now made of all-over embroidery and are very attractive indeed. Beautiful laces are employed in their making and embroidery seems to be the vogue. Besides the terechon laces, there are the German and French valenciennes, and nothing could be prettier and softer looking. The former will wear better as it has a double thread. The imitation Cluny is also good.

Ladies' combination undergarment PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 334 consists of a princess corset-cover to which may be attached either the circular petticoat or circular open drawers. The pattern is cut in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. For the medium size the corset-cover and petticoat require 3 yards of 36-inch material; for corset cover and drawers 3 1/2 yards; for either garment 5 1/2 yards of wide edging and 1 1/2 yards of insertion is required.

Patterns of these models, including cutting and construction guides are 15 cents each number.

Bullfights For the English.

There are indications that the taste for bullfighting is on the wane in Spain. The change might be more rapid but for the extent to which the spectacle is patronized by visitors, of whom, according to Rafael Shaw in "Spain From Within," the English are the worst offenders. "I have been told," he says, "that one bull ring close to Gibraltar is practically kept going by the English spectators. I know that English men and English women in scores and hundreds every year, some of them ardent supporters at home of the Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, make a point when they come to Spain of going to see the show."

A Free and Easy Prison.

Cettinje, the capital of the Kingdom of Montenegro, has probably the most remarkable prison in the world. No walls surround it and the inmates, who furnish their own cells just as they please, seem to stay there only because they find their quarters comfortable. The diet is liberal, with wine on occasions and cigarettes to taste. There is no work to do; no distinctive garb is worn, and comparatively free intercourse is allowed with the outside world. On certain feast days the prisoners are allowed to entertain their friends.

DEMOCRATS TO ELECT

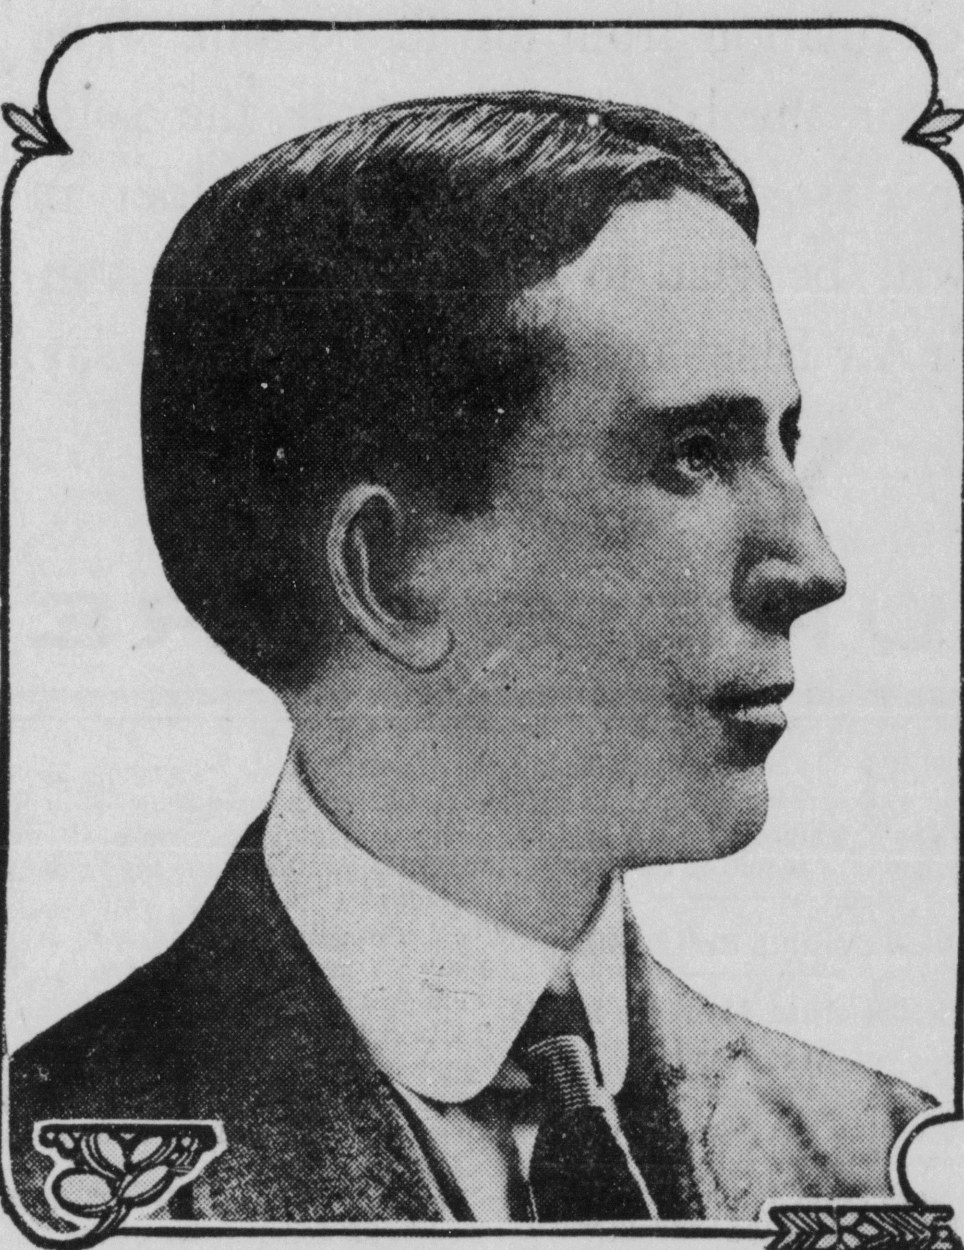

Captain Ben W. Hooper Faces Little Opposition In Tennessee, and State's Present Executive, Opposed to Him Politically, Is Held Responsible.

THE nomination and election of a Republican governor of a southern state, largely by Democratic votes, is unique. Practically without opposition Ben W. Hooper of Newport will be elected by what promises to be an overwhelming majority.

And it is a striking coincidence that when the news is printed it will have been just two years since the brilliant Carmack was assassinated by Robin Cooper and his father, Duncan B. Cooper, political adviser of Governor Malcolm R. Patterson, whose political fortunes have been the storm center around which raged as fierce a political fight as ever was waged in a southern state.

Deserted Orphan Is Winner.

The downfall of Patterson will mean a new era in the political life of Tennessee. Tragedy and romance have gone hand in hand in this political drama, which will place in the governor's chair Captain Hooper, a man who was picked up a deserted orphan in the streets of Knoxville less than forty years ago and who was not known to more than fifty delegates to the Republican convention twenty-four hours before his nomination.

The chief character in the drama is Malcolm R. Patterson, brilliant, daring, tenacious and defiant until fear showed him his future.

And there was Duncan Cooper, who, with his son, killed Carmack, who had associated himself with Patterson so cleverly that to save his own political scalp Patterson dared not cast him off and who was but one of the 160 murderers Patterson has pardoned.

Patterson Insults Court.

When the Coopers were tried for the murder of Senator Carmack Governor Patterson was an important witness for the defense. Each received a sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary and the cases were immediately appealed. The supreme court reversed the case of the younger Cooper and affirmed that of Colonel Duncan Cooper. The ink had not dried on the clerk's book before Governor Patterson granted a full pardon to Colonel Cooper, saying, "It took the supreme court seventy-three days to decide what I decided in seventy-three minutes—and I decided it right."

Patterson had made an attempt to coerce the supreme court of Tennessee and force it to decide the case in favor of the Coopers so that he would be relieved of the embarrassment of having to pardon them. Three of the five supreme judges, including the chief justice, came out in a signed statement asserting that Patterson had attempted to coerce them. Their statement has never been denied in the press, in private or on the stump and still goes unchallenged.

One by one the candidates for the appellate court began to declare that they would not run on the regular Democratic ticket if it was to be dominated by Patterson. The faction calling themselves "Independent Democrats" met and adopted a strong platform denouncing in unmistakable terms Patterson and his methods, the Cooper pardon and the attempted coercion of the supreme court. It took no action on the gubernatorial nomination, but named a ticket for the supreme court and for the appellate court.

The "regular Democrats" under the generalship of Patterson also named a judicial ticket, and Patterson took the stump in the interest of the "regular" ticket. This is wholly unprecedented for a governor.

Patterson Ticket Swamped.

The Republicans had rallied to the support of the anti-Patterson Democrats in the legislature to secure prohibition, so once more they joined forces with the Independent Democrats, and the result was a landslide on Aug. 4, electing the Independent judges by a majority of 47,000.

Things looked blue for Patterson, and the Independents told him that his defeat in November would be even worse. At the last moment he did announce for a third term, and in a convention dominated by him he was duly nominated.

On Aug. 26 Patterson issued a statement saying that he was in the fight to the finish, but on the night of Sept. 10 he issued another announcing his withdrawal "for the good of the party."

This withdrawal came at a critical moment for the Independents.

On Aug. 18 the Republicans had held their state convention, and by a strange

The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reinforced by many eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. The TRIUMPH Air Blast

Is the latest and greatest invention for producing heat from soft coal. Practically all fuel can be turned into heat and utilized in the room—no waste of gases, no waste of soot, no waste by having ashes banked against the fire pot. When we say we can save you one-third of your fuel bill is putting it mildly. The construction of the fire pot is so arranged that its radiation surface is double that of any other soft coal stove made. It is the only fire pot where it is absolutely impossible for ashes to bank against; the only fire pot where hot air has a complete circulation from top to bottom. The perfect fitting ash pit door, the ball bearing grate, the solid cast body are all features worth your while to consider in buying a stove. We will be glad to demonstrate the construction of the Triumph Air Blast and prove up what we say.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Will Be Completed About the Middle of Next Month.

The contractors who are erecting the new school building will complete their work about November 15th and it is believed that the building will be ready for occupancy in about fifteen days after that time. Several of the rooms are already finished and the others will be completed by the time limit stated in the contract.

It was thought that the building would be completed about the first of next month, but a longer time is required as the board has decided to complete the gymnasium. There is considerable concrete work in this department, and the contractors were unable to get the necessary gravel on account of the high waters. The river is receding, however, and several loads of gravel were taken to the building this morning. The gymnasium will have two floors, the first of concrete upon which will be laid a wooden floor. The balcony will have a concrete floor and the stairway will be of iron.

Some of the machinery which was used in the construction of the building has been removed and the rest of it will be taken away as soon as possible. The school yard will be put in condition as soon as the workmen leave the building.

FARMERS AND WOMEN EXEMPT

Miles Would Not Require Them to Have Fishing Licenses.

Much interest is being shown here in the proposed law of George W. Miles, state fish and game commissioner, concerning the licensing of fishermen. Mr. Miles has been preparing the measure for some time and has decided that all women and all persons under twenty-one years old are not to be required to take out licenses; all farmers will be entitled to fish without licenses; all persons may fish in the lakes and streams of the counties in which they live without being required to take out licenses; all money derived from the issuance of such licenses shall be used for the propagation of fish in the lakes and streams.

"The proposed measure," said Mr. Miles, "is to protect the farmer and landowner against the fishermen who go from cities and towns to distant places from their homes and fish without contributing in any way to the care of the lakes and streams. Thousands of people living in the cities and towns flock to the northern lakes and streams, where the spend weeks in fishing. The farmers give their time and money to protect the streams, but the professional vacationist gives nothing in return for what he gets."

"Furthermore, the hunters of the state who pay for hunters' licenses have a right to ask that the money thus collected be used in propagating the game of the state, and they object when any of it is used in protecting the fish. I believe that if the law is enacted with the provisions I have mentioned, no one can justly object to it, and that we will have a proper means of increasing the number of fish."

"I would not collect any fee from the farmer and the landowner, because they are doing much to prevent the destruction of the fish of the state."

FEDERATION OF CLUBS

Will Hold State Convention in Richmond This Month.

Notices have been received in this city from Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, of Indianapolis, president of the Indiana State Federation of Clubs, and Miss Vida Newsom, of Columbus, secretary of the organization, that the fourth annual convention of the state federation will be held in Richmond October 25, 26 and 27. On Tuesday afternoon, October 25, there will be a meeting of the executive committee and board of managers. These meetings will be held in the Westcott hotel, headquarters of the convention.

The committee on credentials will be in session at the high school building from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 8 o'clock on October 25, and from 8 to 9 Wednesday morning, October 26. Credentials should be presented as early as possible, the notices say, and the visiting card of each delegate and alternate should be attached to the credentials card.

Visitors and delegates are requested to report at headquarters and register as soon after their arrival as possible. A copy of the receipt for dues of all organizations holding membership in the federation for the current year must be presented by each delegate to the committee on credentials.

Henry Turner Bailey, of Boston, literary and art critic; Graham Taylor, of the Chicago Commons Social Settlement, and Mrs. Emily M. Bishop, the author of "The Road to Seventy Years Young," will be among the speakers at the convention.

The Richmond Art Association will hold its annual exhibition while the federation is in session.

Mrs. Ida Owens of Brownstown, and Miss Mabel Owens of Medora, went to Indianapolis today for a visit.

Mrs. Delilah Corley of Lakewood, Ill., who has been visiting her niece, Mrs. C. C. Trueblood, left for home today.

Mark Williams, J. H. Kamman, F. W. Wesner, John W. Lewis and Prosecutor Swails were in Brownstown today.

James Burgin, of Medora, was here today on his way home from Columbus after attending the meeting of the veterans at Columbus.

Dr. L. W. Gibson, of Houston, was here this morning returning home from Columbus where he attended the district meeting of the G. A. R.

Miss Effie Joseph, of Hayden, was here this morning on her way to Sidel, Ill. Her mother, Mrs. John Joseph, accompanied her to this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Polk Richards, who have been in Whiter, Minnesota the past three years, are visiting at Valonia. He will attend Medical College in Indianapolis the coming winter.

The farmers along the north fork of the Muscatatuck find they did not suffer greatly from the recent rains. Along the south fork there was much damage. It is reported that about 2000 bushels of corn, still on the stock was washed into one pile on Timothy Lett's farm. Part of it came from his farm and part from his neighbors'. Artemus Lewis lost about 600 bushels.

THE JOLIET MEETING

Knights of Columbus Give the Colonel a Warm Welcome.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 13.—Mr. Roosevelt dwelt on the fact of the broad religious toleration existing in this country and swatted the grafting politicians of Illinois in Peoria last night, where he spoke late, rushing off just in time to catch his train. The colonel faced a gathering of 1,700 members of the Knights of Columbus. He enthused over his pleasant relations with the Catholics and declared that there is no other country where Catholics and Protestants get on as they do in America.

The colonel did not expect to speak at Springfield yesterday morning. When he drew into the capital of Illinois a small knot of persons that gradually increased until there was an audience of goodly proportions inspired him and he fired a broadside at the Illinois situation, deploring the graft and dishonesty just as he did at Chicago on the occasion of the Lorimer incident of the Hamilton club dinner.

After the grand hurrah in St. Louis Tuesday the reception and festivities of Peoria were tame. The coliseum where the colonel made his main speech was jammed full. Archbishop Gellon of St. Louis sent his regrets to the Peoria knights and did not come here. The speech last night contained Roosevelt's first utterance in regard to the Catholic church since the vatican incident last spring. Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding was the only representative of the Catholic hierarchy present. Governor Deneen was present.

Except for Mr. Roosevelt the speech of Richard Henry Little, a Chicago newspaper man, was one of the features of the evening. Some of his stories and jokes were really quite novel. Mr. Little has been associated with George Ade and John T. McCutcheon.

Easy to Make Talk.

Mrs. Closest—Oh, do give me a new bonnet, my dear! It will set all my friends talking.

Mr. Closest—If you're after notoriety why don't you get the old one made over? That will make your friends talk twice as much.

"THE PLEASURES OF SIN."

Tonight's Subject at the Christian Church Revival.

"The Pleasures of Sin" is the subject to be discussed by Evangelist Roy L. Brown at the Central Christian church tonight. Sin with its various phases will be discussed in plain language without the "mincing of words." Everyone seems to enjoy the song service each evening. The audiences are increasing each night and the interest is fine. Preparations are being made for a great day Sunday. On that day Evangelist Brown will speak five times. It will be decision day. Every member of the church should be present Sunday morning at the bible school.

You Look Old.

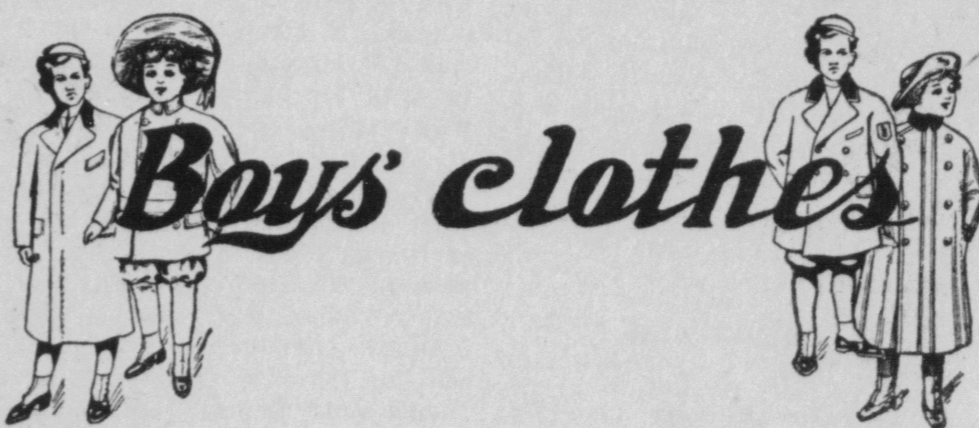

In nine cases out of ten it is not because you are old, but because you are tired, all worn out, and you act as if you just wondered how you are going to get through the season and do your work.

This condition may be caused by a run-down and debilitated condition, or by a bad cold which has left you without strength or ambition.

We want to ask every such person to try Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil. If it does not build you up and make you feel young, strong and well again, we will return the money you paid us for it. Isn't that fair? Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

DISTRICT SCHOOL IS DISAPPEARING

Consolidation Scheme Started by Indiana Is Spreading.

IS BACK TO FARM SOLUTION.

Two-thirds of Present 300,000 Country Establishments Expected to Be Merged Into 30,000 of New Style Within a Few Years—Vocational Training Proves Popular.

The district school must go. It is un-American; it is behind the times; it has failed to keep up with the march of progress; it has let the city schools steal the boys from the farm and educate them for a city life.

Now the familiar little structure at the country crossroads is doomed to extinction. Two hundred thousand of them, spread from ocean to ocean and from border to border, are marked by the hand of progress.

The one room neighborhood school, with one teacher, often sadly inefficient, is passing away. In its place is coming a new factor in country life, a school six or eight times as large, with three or four teachers of training and ability, a school prepared to bring the country boy or girl an education that promises to revolutionize the rural development of America.

A remarkable movement is under way in the United States, almost unnoticed by the general public and little appreciated by many of the farming communities themselves, but destined to play a most important part in the education of the 7,000,000 country children of school age and of the generations that are to follow them.

Educational Hardships Over.

Yesterday the country boy toiled through indifferent roads and across plowed fields to the crossroads district school. Today a big carryall, full of rollicking children and drawn by excellent horses, rolls up to the farmhouse gate each morning with the regularity of the rural mail carrier.

The children pile in. The van moves on to the next farmhouse and accumulates more children. Through the winding roads of a district, often forty miles square, a half dozen of these big wagons, maintained at public expense, are taking hundreds of children every day to a two story schoolhouse, such as the country pupils of a few years ago never dreamed of. At night the wagons roll back over the morning's route, depositing children at their own doorsteps.

The country is solving the "back to the farm" problem. It has found the means to stop the great outpouring of sturdy boys and girls to the city schools, where they have been educated "away from the country." It has succeeded in bringing into the country, almost to the farmhouse door, an education for the country youth equal in its general features to that of the city school and supplemented by a vocational training for permanent life on the farm. It is an education for the farm, not for the pilgrimage to the city.

The new prodigy that is rising out of the ashes of the district school is known for want of a better name as the "consolidated rural school." The name fails to describe this great new institution of rural life. It is more than a consolidation of country schools. It is a graded school, a high school, a manual training school, agricultural school, domestic science school, almost a miniature university.

Practical Farming Taught.

The new system teaches the "vocational training for the farm." The new schoolhouse, instead of standing on a barren lot at a wind swept four corners, is surrounded by a carefully platted farm of ten acres or so. In the more advanced of the schools experimental buildings have been erected, small fruit and forest tracts laid out, miniature dairy and poultry plants constructed and experimental work of all kinds launched.

The boys are taught stock judging, breeding, crop rotation, scientific analysis of the soil, the keeping of farm accounts and kindred subjects. Contests are organized between rival groups of students to see what results can be obtained in the experimental plots and also in practical work on the farm at home.

Indiana leads the way at present in the progress of the new school movement. In almost every county in the state the school wagons are taking crowds of children daily to the central buildings, and the "Hoosier schoolmaster" is of a different type from a generation ago.

Massachusetts is second, Ohio third, and Florida and North Dakota contest for fourth place. In almost every state, with the exception of some of the sparsely settled western ones, the farming districts are either experimenting with the new system or have proved it a complete success.

There were 300,000 little district schools in the nation when the car of progress started on its course. A third of them, because of their isolation and the sparseness of population, will not yield at once to the new scheme, but it is expected that 200,000 of the little institutions will within the next few years be merged into 30,000 consolidated country schools.

BARB WIRE BORN IN A COFFEE MILL

Death of Millionaire Ellwood Reveals Novel Origin.

PIGS CAUSED THE INVENTION.

Home Scheme of Picture Wire and Nails to Protect Illinois Truck Garden Developed Into Huge Industry and Finally the Mammoth Steel Corporation.

The inventor of the barbed wire fence, Isaac Leonard Ellwood, died and was buried recently at his palatial home at Dekalb, Ill. On the funeral train's return trip to Chicago the dead millionaire's former protegee and later partner, John W. Gates, told the story of the part an old coffee mill took in founding an industry that has spread its product over the world.

Colonel Ellwood, then a small hardware dealer in the hamlet of Dekalb, had the scheme called to his attention by a neighboring farmer, Joseph Glidden, who had devised the plan to keep the pigs out of Mrs. Glidden's truck gardens. His sample consisted of some picture wire, stolen from the front parlor, twisted around a nail.

"If I get it patented, Joe, will you give me half of all we make?" That was Mr. Ellwood's only comment. His friend said he hadn't allowed to make anything at all, but just to keep the datted pigs out of Mrs. Glidden's cabbages, so he guessed that like might have half of anything he brought about over and above that end.

That night Mr. Ellwood took the sample home to show his wife. "It's a good scheme, Isaac," looking at it with the critical eye of one who knew the self assertiveness of pigs. "But the nail slips. If you took two wires it would hold better. And a good thing to twist them tight around the nail would be that old coffee mill."

Coffee Mill Is Winner.

The next day Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood went to Joe Glidden's, and they took a hank of wire and a new coffee mill from the hardware store with them. Mr. Ellwood had spent the morning in snipping yards of wire into small bits or barbs, and they passed a pleasant afternoon in working their experiment. Mr. Glidden feeding the wire into the coffee mill, Mr. Ellwood sticking in the barbs and Mrs. Ellwood turning the machine.

That was on a cold, gray day in the early sixties, before the time of monopolies. But it was the occasion on which the first step was taken which led to the American Steel and Wire company, parent of the United States Steel corporation, capital $1,404,000,000.

"They never made any wire that was an improvement on that first attempt," said Mr. Gates in telling the story. "They tried to improve on it and alter it during thirty years. Then they settled down in the resolution that it would just about do."

"There never was such a romance, as the romance of the barbed wire. They set up a little machine there in Colonel Ellwood's hardware store in the rear. Farmers from all over the country came to buy it, and they could not make it fast enough. But first before that Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood and Mr. Glidden undertook to supply the trade by making it with the coffee mill."

"His first lift came when the next year the people who supplied the wire to him sent over to see what on earth Ike Ellwood was doing with so much of it. The next day they came to him with the proposition of capitalizing his scheme. Glidden sold out to them. And I, who was then nineteen, went to work for Mr. Ellwood selling his wire."

Big Combine Formed.

"I sold wire for two years; then I went down to St. Louis and got some capitalists to set up a rival plant. We were in litigation for ten years. Ike wanted us to pay royalties, and we declined; just simply went on selling without paying the royalties. We fought and fought, but all the time we were fighting we were visiting back and forth and were the best of friends out of court, and Mrs. Ellwood was like a mother to my wife."

The courts decided against Colonel Ellwood, and the next anybody knew the two were as friendly in their public life as they always had been in private. They settled down to form a company, and their first step was to get the court to reverse the decision that outside manufacturers should pay royalties, inasmuch as all others would then be outside manufacturers, and the court did.

"Mr. Ellwood and I," continued Mr. Gates, "made all our arrangements and agreements for the formation of the American Steel and Iron corporation without a scratch of writing passing between us." The two men are said to have obligated themselves for $60,000,000. "Then when it came time for us to ask for subscribers we only sought enough to give us $40,000,000."

"The story of barbed wire and of Colonel Ellwood is simply the story of a great fortune made fairly by an honest man—no robbing of widows and orphans, no breaking of promises or taking of unfair advantages."

PLEA IN BEHALF OF THE BABIES

Indiana State Board of Health
Anxious to Save Them.

TOO MANY INFANTS ARE DYING

Dr. Hurty, Secretary of State Board of Health, Figures That One in Four of the Babies Die Before They Reach the Age of Five Years—This Percentage of Mortality Dr. Hurty Declares Is Excessive.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—Lying in the drawer of a desk in the office of Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, is a copy of a general letter addressed to the mothers of Indiana. The mothers have not received these letters and probably will not receive them, for the general assembly held down the state board's appropriation so that there is no money for expenses of mailing. The letter was prepared several months ago by the secretary in the hope that by some manipulation money could be obtained to cover such cost. The purpose of the letter is to instruct mothers of the state in the prevention of diseases among babies during the years preceding school age. "Twenty-five per cent of the children born in Indiana die before they are five years old," said Dr. Hurty. "It is appalling, when one thinks of the effect on the race. The deaths, too, are due chiefly to the fact that many mothers do not know how to prevent the diseases, which take off babies. When the child grows sick a physician is summoned. Nothing will be left undone to save it and sometimes it is saved. What ought to be done is to prevent the conditions which cause the disease, and that is what we wish to accomplish by the letter."

"Few mothers know about the proper ventilation of sleeping rooms for children, about how certain foods ought to be prepared, about the best methods of dressing, and the like. They cannot be expected to know all these things as the skilled sanitarian or nurse knows them, because they haven't had the opportunity to learn. As a result, many children grow up amid grave sanitary dangers merely because they have strong constitutions and are able to defeat the attacks made on them. But because three children survive we ought not to condone the loss of the fourth and make no effort to save it."

"The state board employs skilled physicians, chemists and sanitarians with the people's money, and the mothers of the state have a right to demand that they receive the results of the study we have made concerning the care of children. The children, too, have a just right to demand that their mothers be instructed in the best methods of protecting them against disease in the weakest part of their lives."

"It is our plan to publish a circular letter setting out numerous recommendations prepared by the board touching the care of children. A copy of this should be sent to every mother whose name is returned here in the monthly reports of births. The board believes that hundreds of children under the age of five years could be saved annually if these circulars could be placed in the hands of the mothers of the state at the proper time. A thousand dollars would pay the expenses of the proposed plan of disease prevention for a long time."

A USELESS TRIAL

Grand Jury Makes Report on Wreck Near Tipton.

Tipton, Ind., Oct. 13.—The Tipton county grand jury did not return indictments against Dan Lacy and Charles C. Bell, motorman and conductor, respectively, of the Indiana Union Traction freight train, which caused the wreck, resulting in the death of six passengers and the injury of fifteen passengers north of this city. Members of the jury decided there would be such little criminal liability as to make it impossible for the state to get a conviction. The jury also believed that it would be an expensive and useless trial for the county and would cost the men, who were practically without resources, a considerable sum. These facts were set forth in the report to the court.

Didn't Have a License.

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 13.—William Franklin, a hotel and restaurant keeper of Sheridan, is in jail to serve a sentence of thirty days and will pay a fine of $100 as the result of a plea of guilty before Judge Vestal to the charge of selling liquor without a license and having intoxicants in his possession unlawfully.

Fatal Explosion of Oil.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 13.—Mildred Harshman, aged eight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harshman, of Westchester, who was burned by an explosion of crude oil, is dead.

Settled Dispute With Knives.

Mitchell, Ind., Oct. 13.—In settling a dispute with knives, Aaron Burton was slashed in many places by Wayne Woodward and is not expected to live. Woodward is in jail.

SIGNIFICANT SIGN

Indiana Democrats Find Republican Candidates "Easy to Vote For."

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—Reports from Blackford county indicate that the Republicans will come close to carrying that Democratic center. From Democratic sources comes the story that fully 300 Bryan Democrats have organized in Blackford county to vote the Republican legislative ticket, and the fact that Taggart made the Democratic state ticket, and that Congressman Rauch, Democrat, in the Eleventh district, has lined up definitely with the Taggart element, makes it easy for these bolting Democrats to put the Indian sign on all the Democratic candidates. One of the significant things found in Blackford and in other counties, among Democrats, is the fact that they find it very easy to vote for the Republican legislative ticket, not only on the dry issue, but because they like Senator Beveridge, and are not at all averse to having him continue in public life so long as they feel that he is trying to do the right thing for the people. So it is a big Republican advantage in Blackford county, to have as a senatorial candidate, a man who is not offensive, but rather is favored by the mass of Democrats and citizens generally.

There is the same situation in Grant county, where the Bryan men in several townships, in rural districts, are outspoken for the Republican legislative ticket. In Madison county the workers find that Democrats of the Bryan school look with complacency on the proposition of voting a "dry" legislative ticket under the eagle. In this case again it is a case of Beveridge being "easy to vote for." Reports from counties like Gibson and Parke where Bryan Democrats are compactly formed for revolt against Taggartism, continue to be spread about the state. It is admitted that Hancock county, that citadel of the Democratic party in the past, is uncertain this year. The most optimistic Democrats do not claim more than a bare 250 plurality in that county for the Democratic ticket. And the Republicans are pushing the fight with confidence. Stokes Jackson, Democratic state chairman, lives in Hancock. But he has been run down and stepped on so frequently by the anti-Taggart Democrats in his home county this year that he has conceived the idea that the Democratic party in the whole state is shot to pieces. And for the matter of that, Stokes' fear is justified.

Conditions have so shaped themselves here and there over the state as to make it possible and even probable that Republicans will carry several counties and legislative districts, as well as judicial and congressional districts that were conceded very doubtful or very Democratic in the early spring. And right in the midst of Democratic demoralization, when the Taggart machine finds itself stranded, with the Bryan fellows marching away under strange banners, comes Col. Theodore Roosevelt with the good word of progressive Republicanism, and bowls over the final tureen of Democratic campaign beans.

Not only has the tour of Senator Beveridge thus far surpassed all former off year efforts of candidates, orators or party leaders, but the Roosevelt trip through the state, today, with its series of outpourings, its demonstrations of enthusiasm, and its ovations to both Roosevelt and Beveridge, beats anything, in recent American politics for stirring up the voters and starting the thinking apparatus of the masses. Senator Beveridge has started public opinion good and plenty on to crystallization and right conclusions. The words of Roosevelt, straight from the heart of the man who stands as the first friend of the people, have driven the fundamentals home to the citizen. The propositions laid down by Senator Beveridge in his recent speeches have been driven through and clinched on the other side by Roosevelt's powerful blows. Col. Roosevelt has made it plain that Senator Beveridge is one of the squarest, sturdiest, fightingest public men the people have in their service. He made it patent to the voters that it is necessary and wise to continue Senator Beveridge on the job. The Roosevelt tour did the Republican cause a tremendous amount of good. There is no doubt about it. And that same tour spread disorder and woe in the camp of the Taggart Democrats. Their shattered lines were thrown into confusion, and the stampede which had begun already in spots, is now a full rout. The thousands of thinking, unbowed Democrats who found it "easy to vote for Teddy" in 1904, are preparing at this time to demonstrate that it is as easy to vote a progressive Republican ticket as it was to vote for the chief exponent of progressive policies in that historic landslide year.

Prison Sunday Oct. 30.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—The board of state charities has begun sending out the annual pamphlets calling for the observance of Oct. 30 as prison Sunday in the churches of the state. The custom was started twenty years ago, and has been observed without exception every year since that time.

Young Baby Is Abandoned.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 13.—A one-day-old baby was found on the front porch of the residence of Bert Holmes, a wealthy farmer south of town. With the infant was a basketful of expensive baby clothes.

THE WEEK OF DREAD IS FINALLY PASSED

Rainy River Folk Taking Stock of Losses.

Rainy River, Ont., Oct. 13.—After nearly a week of fire and dread, the stricken people are at last living without fear of being burned to death with their families and property at any moment. For the next few days the great work of helping the refugees, most of whom have lost all they possessed, will go on, and from all accounts nearly every part of the country will do its full share. From Winnipeg, especially, has come prompt and liberal measures of relief. Many large firms of that city have gone into the work with a full-hearted manner. Every spare bed in Rainy River last night contained one or more homeless victims of the Beaudette and Spooner fires. Conditions were much improved over the previous night, and so far as is known no one was without comfortable shelter.

Further search is being made for possible victims in the bush, but it is generally expected that few if any bodies will be found. The national guardsmen on duty at Spooner and Beaudette have been reinforced, and there are now enough troops to insure order and the safety of the many thousands of dollars contained in the safes of burned-out business houses and the bank vaults.

Estimate of Property Loss.

New York, Oct. 13.—Thomas H. Shevlin, who is the largest individual property holding sufferer in the fire in the Rainy River district, says that from private dispatches he has received, the total property loss in the district would not amount to more than $2,000,000. The loss of life, Mr. Shevlin added, would be far more serious.

First Reports Exaggerated.

Beaudette, Minn., Oct. 13.—Governor Eberhart has arrived here to personally inspect the scene of the disasters fire. He expressed himself as pleased to learn that the first reports were all exaggerated.

Death From Match Burns.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 13.—Julia, the ten-year-old daughter of Charles Troyer, is dead from burns received when she lighted a match.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Walter Wellman, as expected, did not start for Europe in a balloon Wednesday.

Robert W. Steele, chief justice of the Colorado supreme court, is dead at Denver from paralysis, aged fifty-three.

The Greek cabinet has resigned. It is generally believed that M. Venizelos, the Cretan leader, will be the new premier.

Much concern is felt over the condition of Senator Dolliver, who is confined to his bed at his home in Fort Dodge, Iowa.

The house of deputies of the general conference of the Episcopal church in session at Cincinnati put itself on record as believing in the Bible as the work of God.

Louis Scherr, a New York tailor, went to Baltimore for the express purpose of killing his elder brother Harry, against whom he bore a grudge, and carried out his intention. He is in jail.

The German government has refused satisfaction to the one American and three English newspaper correspondents who were attacked and injured by the police during the Berlin strike riots on the night of Sept. 28.

Charles M. Schwab says the steel business is very dull. "In fact," says he, "conditions are worse than at any time since I took hold of the Bethlehem Steel company." He attributes it, in a measure, to "political agitation throughout the country."

PARISIANS LAY IN FOOD STORES

City Taking On Some Semblance to a Siege.

RAILWAY TRAFFIC SHUT DOWN

The Strike Promises to Become General on All French Roads and Situation Is Hourly Growing More Acute — Premier Briand Admits the Justice of Some of the Claims of the Strikers and Concessions May Be Made.

Paris, Oct. 13.—Detachments of provincial troops are arriving in Paris. The directors of the Western State railroad have decided to dismiss all their employees who refuse to return to work. The food situation in Paris is causing some alarm. Prices of provisions at the central markets have advanced in some cases as much as 20 per cent. Parisians are laying in stocks of food to the same extent as they did before May 1, 1906, when a great labor strike was feared. The authorities are now organizing a boat service for the purpose of bringing provisions to the city.

The St. Lazare station has been closed. A few trains reached Poissy, some sixteen miles away, where they found eleven other trains stalled with the brakes fully applied. Six of the stalled trains were bound up the line and five down. A crowd of strikers met the new trains and compelled them to return to Paris. The employees of the Eastern railway held a meeting and decided to strike at midnight. The Paris, Lyons & Mediterranean line employees are also expected to join the Northern and Western strikers.

Premier Briand had a conference with General Brun, minister of war; M. Millerand, minister of public works, posts and telegraphs; M. Barthou, minister of justice, and the legal authorities. It is understood that as a result of this conference many arrests may be expected. After the conference M. Briand gave out a statement that the movement was a purely insurrectional one and in no way professional. It was, he said, entirely outside the railway personnel, who will see but too late that they are being led to deplorable excesses.

The statement of the premier admits that the government considers that the strikers have some just claims, which it is ready to consider. It is understood that the government is willing to allow railway rates to be raised to cover an increase in wages.

The employees of the subways of Paris and the masons and allied trades have voted for a general strike. The newspapers are employing autos for the purpose of distributing their editions. One paper has sixty-five cars employed for this purpose.

While the prices of fish, meat and poultry have risen in the markets, there is an over-abundant supply of fruits from southern France which cannot be forwarded to the north, and the prices of these supplies have slumped. The milk situation is serious, as 1,000,000 litres ordinarily arrive each morning by the Western, Eastern and Northern lines. This supply is now, of course, entirely cut off.

Trains Stop at Border.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—The most direct route between Germany and France, that by way of Cologne, cannot be used because of the strike of French railway employees. No train has run over the line for thirty-six hours. Many Germans and a quantity of freight bound for France are held up at the frontier. Communication between Paris and Berlin is yet open by way of Lyons, but the delay by this route is five hours. It is probable that the line will soon be stopped.

Organizing Auto Service.

Brussels, Oct. 13.—The French mails are arriving here twelve hours late. An auto service is being organized. Some Belgian merchants propose to sue France for the losses caused by the strike.

Royalists Deny Rumor.

London, Oct. 13.—The Duke of Orleans indignantly denies a Paris rumor that the French royalists have subsidized the railway strikers with 500,000 francs.

Transportation Doubtful.

London, Oct. 13.—English railways continue to book passengers to France, but do not guarantee their transportation beyond the ports.

FULLER'S MANTLE

May Fall Upon Root's Shoulders, According to This.

Washington, Oct. 13.—President Taft is considering United States Senator Root for appointment as chief justice of the supreme court. No decision has been reached yet by Mr. Taft in regard to the chief justiceship, but Senator Root is regarded by him at this time with as much favor as any other man. There is good reason to think that Mr. Root would accept the place if it were offered him.

A horse belonging to J. Kaydrey, a transient peddler, strayed away from near Elizabethtown Wednesday and has not yet been found. The owner had unhitched the animal along the roadside and while it was grazing upon some grass he laid down on the ground and fell asleep. When he awoke the horse was missing and has not yet been found. He believes that it strayed away and is being held by some farmer.

Mrs. Harry Wallace met with quite a serious accident Monday morning. She had stepped on the edge of a bed to take down a window curtain and in getting down lost her balance and fell and dislocated her left knee cap. Dr. Heller was called and dressed the injury and she is now at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. S. Clements. She has been suffering considerably since the accident occurred. —Brownstown Banner.

A Mrs. Weddle, residing east of the city, had a very narrow escape this morning from being killed while driving in a buggy along J street, near the Harbaugh & Schooley store. The horse she was driving became frightened as Monon train No. 6 passed, and backed the buggy into the train. One of the wheels of the buggy was wrecked, but the driver was not injured.

Charles Oakly, of the Crystal and Colonial theatres, was probably instrumental in saving Mrs. Weddle from serious injury by rushing to her assistance in handling the frightened horse. —Bedford Mail.

THIRTY-THIRD REUNION

Held By Members of Twenty-second Indiana Regiment.

The surviving members of the Twenty-second Indiana regiment held their thirty-third annual reunion at the district meeting at Columbus Wednesday. Forty members answered the roll-call. After transacting the regular business, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

In the annual report which was given it was shown that eight of the members of the regiment had died since the meeting in 1909. The deceased members are: W. H. Rutherford, Lafayette; William Largent, Seymour; James Benham, Madison; Joseph H. Mitchell, Indianapolis; Benjamin Robertson, Indianapolis; Marion Parish, Monticello, and Rueben C. Griffith, of Morgantown.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA

WHERE SALVES FAIL

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25 cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.
